SAN MARINO HIGH SCHOOL PIANIST WINS $5,000 MUSIC CONTEST PRIZE

San Marino, CA – July 21, 2010 - - San Marino High School junior Andrew Liu swept the Rotary Club District 5300's Dan Stover Music Competition held in Las Vegas the end of last month, winning the district's $5,000 prize. Andrew won over winners from each of the district's 62 clubs competing for the prestigious Dan Stover prize.

"We are extremely proud of Andrew," said San Marino Rotary President Robert Nafie. "He originally placed second in the San Marino Rotary's music competition held annually each February, showing what an extremely close contest it was. When Andrew stepped in because San Marino's first-place winner could not come and perform at the Rotary District Conference in Las Vegas, he stunned the judges with his outstanding piano performance of a difficult Beethoven piece."

Andrew is the son of Jack and Grace Wang Liu.
